

Our American Identity

by Dr. J. Stanley Barnes

"Our eyes are beholden that we cannot see things that stare us in the face until the hour arrives when the mind is ripened. Then we behold them, and the time when we saw them not is like a dream."

Walk through any shopping center anywhere in America and you will see them: the wandering, listless young adults and teenagers, wearing dirty denims and vacant faces. They are bored, cynical and lazy. Their minds and lives are empty, and behind their mask of vulgarity they are terribly afraid of life.

How did they get this way?
What is their basic problem?

Therapy is not enough to get to the root of all this waste of our human resources. Treatment of symptoms, such as drug addiction - including alcoholism - skims over the root of the malady. Something more, deeper, is desperately needed if all these young lives are to be salvaged and changed into happy, productive, responsible people with self-respect and dignity.

There is one basic reason why all the millions of these dropouts and bums are empty and miserable. They do not know who they are. They have lost their sense of identity; they are completely out of touch with their roots. When people lose their sense of identity, they lose the courage and will to face the challenges of life with zest and determination. Adult life ceases to be a challenge and opportunity and becomes a dreadful threat. Without identity, men and women tend to retreat into their own "fantasy island" sustained by pleasure, sleep, alcohol, sex, lies, drugs, and electronic crutches including television, stereos, and space games.

It is incredible that the millions of zombies drifting around today are the direct descendants of brave immigrants, hardy pioneers, and the hard-working craftsmen who built America. We can be encouraged to remember that the genetic material is there for a renaissance of health and social productivity. The creative genius by which Europeans and the peoples of European descent have blessed the world is still coursing through the veins of people today.

But they do not know that.

Over thirty years of professional experience have led me to the deep conviction that I know the answer to perhaps ninety percent of the frustration and anxiety that blight our society. That answer is to make our adolescents and young adults aware of their rightful heritage, their proud identity, and so, their rich potential for the abundant and meaningful life. When people become aware of their identity, they will sense within themselves the stirring again of their ancient vigor: they will stand tall and celebrate the clean, natural vitality already silently present in their genetic code.

There is a book which is the property of this generation, a book which sets forth the basis an unfolding of a Providential plan for this planet in the fullness of time. That book is seldom read because most of our people do not know it is their book. It belongs to them, it speaks to me and not some alien race, and it is the divine guide for successful living today. That book is the Bible, emphatically including the Old Testament, which is largely ignored by the vast majority of professing believers. And why is the Old Testament ignored? Because few people realize Americans and Europeans are the central People being talked about throughout that rich body of writing.

God has one plan for all time. He has one chosen people for all generations. If you wonder who these people are, look at the faces of the overwhelming majority of millions who have responded to the gospel across the centuries and who still do so in our time.

The fact is that almost all the true gospel preachers across the generations - including this generation - and the vast majority of those who have genuinely accepted Jesus or Messiah are men and women of White European racial descent. By their fruits you shall know them.

White Americans contribute nine out of ten world missionaries and nine out of ten dollars to carry the gospel into the world. It evades the truth to attribute this simply to our affluence. No other people in world history have demonstrated the same degree of compassion and concern for the physical and spiritual needs of Africans, Asians, and Latin Americans, even though we are often hated by those we continue to help. {This condition is called pathological altruism. - Eli} The only people who approach our degree of concern are the white Europeans, and especially the English-speaking peoples of Canada, New Zealand, England, Australia, and other places where our people have successfully carried the gospel across the years.

It is time for us to throw off the yoke of oriental distortions of our culture and that humanism which denies to us our exciting heritage. It is time to halt the slide down to aboriginal primitivism in our music, art, clothing, and morals. It is time to renew our national youth. This can and will happen as increasing numbers of thoughtful seekers begin to know the truth and be set free. Then the divinely-given creative genius which built Western civilization will be released from bondage and, under the absolute Lordship of our Christ, there will come into being a new, purified, clean and natural society of energetic, productive, happy people - the people to whom the divine promise was given.

We begin to trace our white roots in the New Testament. Matthew 4:23 records, "And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom..." We notice first that most of Jesus' ministry took place deliberately in the northern region of Galilee who lived in the ancient house of Israel, not to be confused with Judah, progenitor Jews. {sic., 'progenitor' is incorrect, since the Jewish people are not derived from Judah but from Esau-Edom. Also, the religion called "Judaism" was never practiced by the House of Judah. Judaism was concocted by the Edomite Pharisees. – Eli.} It is of extreme importance to clearly establish in our thinking the fact that our Lord's message was "the good news of the government to be established by divine intervention into the present world order." The whole Bible is written to a whole people who carry God's mission, not simply scattered individuals here and there. We distort the gospel when we take it to mean little more than a soothing panacea for our individual needs if we could take our eyes off ourselves and make a commitment to the divine plan for all the world.

Remember: the gospel is the "good news" announcement of a coming Providential world government. Jesus was proclaiming the destined establishment of a new order, a divine authority for all the nations. Do not confuse this with Satan's counterfeits, the various humanistic efforts toward world government, such as the United Nations Organization.

In Luke 4:43 we read of Jesus' pressing concern that this gospel of world order (not heavenly escape) might reach a wider circle: "I must preach the kingdom (government) of God to other cities also: for therefore am I sent." Here Jesus clearly defines His mandate.

Contrary to the naive assumption of most people, Jesus was sent to a specific population group. He clearly stated, "I am not sent but unto the lost sheep house of Israel" (Matthew 15:24). His reference to the "house of Israel" refers precisely to the ten tribes who, centuries earlier, had comprised the northern kingdom of Israel after the death of Solomon and until those ten tribes were taken into captivity about 721 B.C. Since the house of Israel, as scholars well know, did not include the tribe of Judah, Jesus was not "sent" primarily to the Jews, but was specifically on a mission to take a message to the people of the ten tribes of the house of Israel, none of whom were Jews (properly called Judaites or Judeans). {Yahshua was not sent to the Jews at all, because the Jewish people of this time were aliens descended from Esau/Edom, not from any of the tribes of Israel. The same is true of today's Jews. If the Jews were Israelites, why would they reject the redemption offered at Calvary? And then commit deicide on top of this rejection! - Eli.}

There has been continuing confusion at this point, partly because the King James version Bible, at the beginning of the seventeenth century, used the medieval term "Jew" to translate the term yehudim and its Greek equivalent. Clarity would be achieved by employing the term Judaite or the word Judean; of those two terms, Judaite is to be preferred because Judean evokes images of the land rather than the people. Even so, there are many today who are Judaites but are not Jews, and there are many others among today's Jews who are not descended from Abraham through Judah. {The fact is that no Jews are descended from Abraham, except for the minuscule amount of DNA that Jews may have gotten from Esau. See John 8. – Eli}

More to the point, if Jesus was "not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel," it would seem to be impossible that any message could reach them, for they had been scattered beyond little Palestine for about seven hundred years. In their wanderings through centuries, the people of Israel forgot their roots, adopting other languages, religions, and tribal names. Moreover, there would be the suspicion that they had mixed with other races as they migrated, creating a mixed people and effectively breeding themselves out of existence. But God had promised many generations before, "I will command, and I will sift the house of Israel among all nations, like as corn is sifted in a sieve, yet shall not the least grain fall upon the earth." (Amos 9:9). In other words, there was the irrevocable divine promise that as Israel wandered through other lands to far distance places, they would maintain their genetic code, their racial integrity, and so their identity as the Chosen People of God, destined in good time to be used in the establishment of the creative rule of the Eternal.

Jesus was sent to "the lost sheep of the house of Israel." Those ten tribes were certainly "lost" in the eyes of the world and were "lost" as well in their own memory, yet not for one moment were they lost in the sight of the One who shapes human history. And since we believe the Bible to be true, despite the attacks upon it by all antichrists, we are assured that the people of "the house of Israel" still exist as an identifiable biotype. {The Greek word translated as 'lost' is appolumi, which means "put away in punishment," which is an exact description of the Israelites who were exiled into the wilderness of Europe. – Eli}

II Esdras 13:41* reports the travel of the ten tribes of the house of Israel: "They took counsel among themselves, that they would leave the multitude of the heathen, and go forth into a further country where never mankind dwelt."

* II Esdras was included in the original KJV Bible, but it has been omitted from most American Bibles for a century. Copies may be found in old family Bibles or translations including the Apocrypha, or hidden Books of the Bible.

Writing ca. 95 A.D., Josephus updates the known identity of the "lost sheep" of the House of Israel in these words: "There are but two tribes in Asia and Europe subject to the Romans, while the ten tribes are beyond Euphrates till now and are an immense multitude." (Antiquities, Book XI, Ch. V., 2)

That is why Jesus could be confident as He instructed the disciples, "but go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. And as ye go, preach saying, The kingdom (government) of heaven (God) is at hand" (Matthew 10:6, 7). The disciples were specifically charged to proclaim that concise message: the coming of the government of God upon the earth. In order for the disciples to speak to the "lost sheep of the house of Israel" they would necessarily travel far beyond Palestine to wherever the "lost sheep" had migrated across seven centuries. And when the disciples finally reached those lost Israelites, they obviously would need to recognize them, despite all the changes the years had wrought. This would require the leading of the Spirit of God, and that resource was provided before the disciples left Jerusalem after our Lord's ascension.

The call of Jesus to the disciples was in these familiar words, "Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men" (Matthew 4:19). It is almost universally assumed that Jesus was speaking in very general terms and had no particular group or nation of men in mind; but Jesus, unlike most of us, knew the prophecy found in Jeremiah, where God, speaking of the "children of Israel" said, "Behold, I will send for many fishers, saith the Lord, and they shall fish them..." (Jeremiah 16:16).

It is the plan of the Almighty to reach all nations of men through a particular ethnic group, for "...the Lord thy God has chosen thee to be a special people unto himself, above all people that are upon the face of the earth...know therefore that the Lord thy God, He is God, the faithful God, which keepeth covenant and mercy with them that love him and keep his commandments to a thousand generations." (Deuteronomy 7:6, 9).

If we arbitrarily estimate twenty five years for a generation, this promise of God guarantees God will remember His people for twenty- five thousand years, which leaves us at least twenty thousand more years to go before we may say that God will forget any of the people of all twelve tribes of Israel. This means that not only will God remember the tribe of Judah, but that God will just as surely remember those of us who are descended from any of the other tribes of Israel. We will see that this includes all those of Celtic, Anglo-Saxon, Germanic, Scandinavian, and related stock. It also includes certain population groups now found in Italy, Spain, and the Slavic countries of Eastern Europe.*

*Evidence for this revelation will be found in a later section of this writing.

The 48th and 49th chapters of the book of Genesis (beginnings) set forth the destiny of all the tribes of Israel from the time of the death of Jacob Israel till the coming of God's kingdom on earth. The course of human history has evolved in accordance with the inspired prophecies of the dying patriarch Jacob Israel. All of us who are descended from white European roots are included there, though few of us have been aware of it. Powerful vested interests have suppressed the truth because they have wanted salvation to be exclusively either through their institutions or for their race.

Jacob Israel had twelve sons, one of whom was Joseph. He, in turn, had two sons, Ephraim and Manasseh. Jacob Israel adopted those two grandsons to inherit on the same basis as each of the other eleven sons, so that in a sense, there were then to be not twelve, but thirteen tribes. Manasseh would become, in effect, a "thirteenth" tribe, and the number thirteen would one day be peculiarly theirs, dating from the time of their political independence, and would be found on their national seal and the basic unit their currency. But the other son of Joseph, Ephraim, was to be given even greater prominence, would one day be the center of a commonwealth of nations, and would provide the one language which would be the tongue of commerce and diplomacy for all nations in the last days.

Speaking of Ephraim and Manasseh, Jacob Israel said, "...let my name be named on them" (Genesis 48:16), thus indicating that as the dual bearers of his name, the nations descended from them would hold the birthright, which was title to material and financial blessing. First Chronicles 5:2 confirms "...the birthright was Joseph's" (through Ephraim and Manasseh).

This destiny to become wealthy through divine approval is stated in Deuteronomy 33:13-16 in terms of "land" and "precious fruits" and wealth, to one day be derived from "the ancient mountains" and the "fulness" of the earth, such as mineral wealth and world leadership in the production of food such as wheat and corn.

When Jacob Israel conferred the birthright upon the sons of Joseph, this carried the right for them especially to bear the name of Israel. This is reflected centuries later, when at times the whole house of Israel was called by the name of Ephraim. Also, we may note that as brothers, Ephraim and Manasseh would one day be the fathers of nations which had an especially close relationship, having the same language, people, principles of government, legal bases, drama, and religious tradition. The only nation today which has fulfilled the prophecy concerning Ephraim is Great Britain. The only nation which has fulfilled the prophecy regarding Manasseh is the United States. Since Manasseh means literally "forgetfulness" it is not surprising that few Americans have any awareness of their heritage and their wonderful promise.

It is well to bear in mind that the term "nation" in the Bible is not synonymous with the modern concept of the nation-state. In the Bible, a people (nation) is racially homogeneous, which nature proves is the way to internal harmony, security, and continuing creativity and progress. This is why the Bible condemns race mixing. Human beings are subject to the same laws of genetics as are dairy cattle, race horses, grain crops, and, in fact, every living thing. God established the laws of heredity, and man can only break himself when he tries to break those laws. To pretend that radically opposing ethnic groups can permanently exist as one nation is a fatal humanistic illusion. This is why America is today paying heavily for the terrible sin of human slavery. {Abraham Lincoln and the American Colonization Society would have sent the blacks back to Africa, but the Rothschilds had him assassinated before he could in this way solve the race problem that was created by the Jews and slaveocracy of the South. – Eli}

The gospel by Jesus was the announcement that God will establish His government on earth.

The disciples of Jesus were and are charged with responsibility to take that message to the scattered peoples of the "lost" house of Israel.

The white people of Europe and related nations around the globe are the unrecognized lost tribes of the house of Israel.

Chief among these nations in these last days is the tribe of Manasseh, known to itself and to the world as the United States of America.

The America destiny began with the inspired words of Jacob 'Israel as he lay dying and pronounced God's future for the descendents of Manasseh: "...he also shall become a people, and he also shall be great..." (Genesis 48:19)

In those few cryptic words is revealed the divine source of American world leadership today, as that role was amplified in many later Biblical writings, including Ezekiel 36:10-11:

“And I will multiply men upon you,
all the house of Israel, even all of it.
And the cities shall be inhabited,
and the waste shall be builded;
And I will multiply upon you man and beast;
and they shall increase and bring fruit;
and I will settle you after your old estates,
And will do better unto you than at your beginnings;
and ye shall know that I am the Lord.”

This prophecy applies to all the white European non-Jewish people.

Ezekiel's primary message is addressed to "the house of Israel" and so applies to the Aryan (European, non-Jewish) nations and their relatives wherever they have migrated around the world. The promises that "the cities shall be inhabited" and "the waste shall be builded" applies to the building of Christian civilization in what became the United States of America and Canada. {Note: The Jews had no part in building the waste (wilderness) areas of the twelve tribes. As a non-agrarian breed of parasites descended from Cain through Canaan and Esau, the Jews are identified as the "fugitives and vagabonds" (Gen. 4:12) of the Cain-Satanic seedline. Unlike the Israelites, who built nations as they migrated, the Jews have never had a homeland of their own. They are always aliens and intruders among us. – Eli}

In the above prophecy of Ezekiel is the clear promise of a growing population and developing wealth. It is said that a wealth begins with the products of the earth. Since the first days of creation, North America had the potential for the development of mineral and agricultural wealth, but virtually nothing was developed here until white northern European Christians came to this continent with a vision of themselves as the Israel of God.

They saw this virgin land as the new Promised Land wherein they would be the New Jerusalem, the people who are the Temple of God. "...ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people" (II Corinthians 6:16). Their eyes were not on the old covenant or the old Jerusalem; they knew themselves to be the Israel under the new covenant and bearing the promise of a new land. God had told them, "I will take the children of Israel from among the heathen, whither they be gone, and will gather them on every side, and bring them into their own land...Moreover I will make a covenant of peace with them; it shall be an everlasting covenant with them: and I will place them, and multiply them, and will set my sanctuary in the midst of them for evermore" (Ezekiel 37: 21, 26).

All of that prophecy is now fulfilled, awaiting only the coming of Christ to reign as Lord over His people.

The facts of American history amply reflect her divine origin and destiny. In the year 1620, the Pilgrims of Plymouth Colony on Cape Cod signed the Mayflower Compact, affirming their purpose in the words, "...for the glory of God, and advancement of the Christian faith..."

In the year 1638, the Reverend Thomas Hooker of Connecticut delivered a sermon based on Deuteronomy 1:13, "Take you wise men, and understanding, and known among your tribes, and I will make them rulers over you." Here was set forth simply but clearly the Providential plan for human government under God. In direct response to that sermon, some months later the colonists drew up the Fundamental Orders of Connecticut, significant because it was actually the first constitution forming a government in all human history. It came nearly a century and a half before the United States Constitution and had a direct bearing upon our national constitution.

On Jul 4, 1776, the Declaration of Independence was set forth, in the words of that document, "...with a firm reliance upon the protection of Divine Providence."

On April 22, 1864, by Act of Congress, the motto "In God we Trust" was first directed to be imprinted on a unit of American Currency, the two-cent piece. This is the fact, despite the lying claim of anti-christ that this was not done till the middle of the twentieth century.

On the reverse side of the one-dollar bill is shown both the obverse and reverse sides of the Great Seal of the United States. The reverse side of the Great Seal bears two mottos: Annuit Coeptis, meaning "He (God) has favored (or prospered) our undertakings" and Novus Ordo Seclorum, meaning "The new order of the ages." Our forefathers knew they were the true Israel of God and that they were founding a divinely inspired New Order to express the government of God on earth. Remember that the announcement of the coming government of God was the "good news" preached by Jesus.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States includes recognition that we comprise "... one nation, under God."

The identity of America as part of Israel has been obscured by the persistent mistake of identifying the Jews and them alone as Israel. This terrible and destructive fundamental error is made, for example, by the paraphrase (not a translation) called The Living Bible, which inserts the term "the Jews" in hundreds of places. That word simply does not appear in the original text, misleading millions.

Many Christian fundamentalists think they are supporting "God's chosen people" when they support politicians who shape American foreign policy to underwrite virtually anything the Jews want to do in Palestine or elsewhere. Billions of tax dollars provide Zionists with the highest per capita foreign aid of all the nations on earth. Jews are not rich enough—they must drain off billions of dollars in wealth produced by the American people for the benefit of other Jews in a foreign nation which falsely calls itself Israel. It is time for the truth to be told. Since the Jews control the media, anyone who raises questions about the validity of their actions is smeared as bigoted, fascist, and anti-Semitic, even though the Arabs have a better claim to the label "Semitic" than do the Jews of today.

Before Americans are required to die in a Middle East war to protect Jewish political and financial interests in Palestine, American citizens ought to learn the truth about who is Israel and who is not. Our young men deserve that, as do our future generations. If you care about your husband and your son, you will continue to investigate the facts. Many people prefer not to think about unpleasant facts until it is too late. Then they respond in panic, saying, "Somebody do something." Do not be one of those. Share this booklet with your friends now.

One of the marks identifying the true Israel was a message from God given to Abraham, "...in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed..." (Genesis 22:18), repeated by God to Jacob Israel, "...in thy seed shall all families of the earth be blessed." (Genesis 28:14). This divine promise was repeated by Jacob Israel in his dying blessing, upon his two grandsons, Ephraim and Manasseh, as recorded in Genesis 48:20, "In thee shall Israel bless..." Israel would bring blessing, not trouble, to all the peoples of the earth, through Ephraim and Manasseh. The identity of Ephraim as Great Britain and Manasseh as the United States is confirmed by looking at the facts of history. England and America have taken into all the world the finest earthly examples of political freedom under law, the ideal of free public education, the blessings of science, industrial expertise to raise the standard of living of billions of people, medicine, literature, drama, and above all the gospel of Christ. Most of the missionaries taking Christ as a blessing to all people are sent out by the English-speaking nations, and they are the countries which have led the world in the printing of Bible and providing funds for world evangelization. Christ is "A light to lighten the nations (the true meaning of "Gentiles"), and the glory of thy people Israel." (Luke 2:32.)

The blessing of Christ is being taken to all the world by white European and America related nations. "And the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many people as a dew from the Lord, as the showers upon the grass..." (Micah 5:7) bringing refreshment, nourishment, and growth. By their fruits you shall know them. The true Israel consists of those who fulfill the prophecies. Anyone who claims to be Israel and does not take the blessing of Christ Jesus into the world is an impostor.

After the death of Solomon, the united kingdom of Israel was divided into two distinct political units, (1) the "house of Israel" in the north consisting of ten tribes, and (2) the "house of Judah" in the south, consisting of two tribes, Judah and Benjamin. In the late eighth century B.C. the northern "house of Israel" became subject to the political and military power of neighboring Assyria, culminating in about 721 B.C. in the fall of Samaria, the capital city, and the deportation of all the productive people of that society into the region today comprising Iraq and Iran, the land Medes and Persians. Those people then migrated north and west into the wilderness that became Europe. Their identity was lost to history because they were known by different names in various places and times. They forgot their roots and adopted the religions of the primitive peoples they encountered on their travels.

Second Kings 18:13 records a successful invasion of the house (kingdom) of Judah by Assyria about 700 B.C. in which the invading armies captured "all the fenced cities of Judah" except Jerusalem.

The Assyrians' record of that invasion says the Assyrian armies captured forty-six cities of the house of Judah and that Assyrians "brought away" 200,150 people.

Those Judaite prisoners in Assyria moved eastward into the mountains of Central Asia where they were known as the Yoti, but about the time of Christ the migrated into Europe and settled in the Danish Islands and in Jutland, or Judahland. These people of the house of Judah became ancestors of the Germans today. Though they are of the house of Judah (the tribes of Judah and Benjamin), they are far different from the Jews of today. The Jews through the centuries have mixed with Edomites, Khazars (Mongolian), and North African stock, so that the Jews of today have little blood of Abraham in their veins while the Germans of today could (if they knew the facts) trace their ancestry to the house of Judah centered on Jerusalem. Perhaps this fundamental conflict of identity explains the ancient tensions between Jews and Germans.

About one hundred years after the exile of two hundred thousand Judaites by the Assyrians, the house of Judah was invaded by Babylon. Only a relatively small number ever returned to the area around Jerusalem, the rest remaining in Babylon. These {non-Israelite} people in Palestine and Babylon became the ancestors of the people known today as the Jews.

The book of Esther records that in her time many people of other races adopted the Jewish {sic, Mosaic – Eli} religion, which added thousands of people who became known as Jews but were not descended from Abraham (Esther 8:17). {The most correct way of stating this is that the non-Judahites of the time contrived a bastardized, Babylonian version of the Mosaic Law, which is today known as the Babylonian Talmud. – Eli}

According to Josephus, the Jewish {sic, Judahite – Eli} historian, writing 95 A.D., about 150 B.C. a Judean leader named John Hyrcanus led a Jewish {sic, Judahite – Eli} army; which captured many cities of the Idumeans (Greek form of Edomites) and compelled them to follow the Jewish {sic, Judahite – Eli} religion. The men were all circumcised and all the Edomites were forced to adopt the Jewish {sic, Judahite, Mosaic – Eli} ceremonial and dietary laws.

From that day on, all those Edomites were counted as Jews {sic, Judeans, not as Judahites or Israelites – Eli}, though racially they were descended from Esau. Significantly, these descendants of Esau have always deeply resented that God's salvation plan was carried down through the line of Jacob Israel rather than Esau, their forefather; and the Edomite Jews have bitterly resented Jesus of Nazareth, rejecting the Crucified One as Messiah. Interestingly, "Edom" means "Red."

In the eighth and ninth centuries after Christ, a basically Mongolian people called Khazars (or Chazars) lived in the area north of the Black Sea and the Caspian Sea. Their King Bulan decreed that all Khazars adopt the religion of the Pharisees as an instrument of political unity. Arnold Toynbee, the eminent British historian, places this mass conversion to Jewry as taking place across the period 750-870 A.D. This Khazar empire became the backbone of the Jews who migrated into the Slavic nations of eastern Europe and from there into the United States about the turn of the Twentieth century, bringing with them the mentality of socialist revolution, which has always included terrorism.

The basic Communist documents are 'Das Kapital' and 'The Communist Manifesto' written by Karl Marx, a Jew.* He was assisted in his writing by another Jew, Friederich Engles. Jewish influence, if not control, of the Communist movement continued through Lenin, who is today worshipped as the Red Messiah, and Leon Trotsky, a New York Jew whose real name was Braunstein. According to U.S. Document No. 62 of the 66th Congress, Vol. 3, at the Communist meeting in Petrograd (now Leningrad) Russia, in 1918; the group in attendance consisted of 16 Russians, 1 American Negro, and 371 Jews.

* Karl Heinrich Marx, whose real name was Kissel Mordekay, was born in Trier, Rhineland. His father was a Jewish lawyer. His grandfather was a talmudic Rabbi. "On both paternal and maternal sides he was descended from rabbinical families." Univ. Jewish Encyclopedia, Vol. VII, p. 289; etc.

Another Jew, Sigmund Freud, invented psychoanalysis. Though the whole system of thought is purely Freud's own creation and is totally non-medical and non-scientific it has been amazingly seductive, being accepted today throughout Western medicine. Freud's system has no more scientific credibility than does voodoo, yet his pseudoscience has become the effective religion of thousands of Jews and Anglo-Saxons, the two groups who comprise most practitioners and "patients" today. Psychoanalysis, a Jewish invention, totally discredits the Biblical teaching of man as sinner in need of Jesus Christ as Savior.

Freudianism and Communism certainly qualify as antichrists. As such, they represent Satanic attacks upon the integrity of the true Israel.

In the gospel of John we see a clear distinction being drawn between the false Israel and the true Israel. Seeing Nathanael, Jesus defined his type as "...an Israelite indeed (in truth), in whom is no guile!" (John 1:47). Significantly, Nathanael was a Galilean, not a Judean. In fact, Judas Iscariot was the only Judean among the twelve disciples. Of the false Israel, John writes, "He came unto his own, and his own received him not." (John 1:11). {Actually, this statement applies to the true Judahites and Israelites of Judea, who WERE "His own." Yahshua did not come to save the Jews, because the Jews were and are aliens to true Israel. The fact is that many true Israelites rejected Yahshua. This is still true today. Also, Judas came from the town of Keriioth, which was an Edomite town bordering southern Judah. The erstwhile surname, Ishkerioth, means "man of Keriioth." – Eli.} Nothing could be clearer than the test of authenticity set forth by Jesus Himself in John 8:39: "If ye were Abraham's children, ye would do the work of Abraham." Then Jesus added, "If God were your Father, ye would love me." (John 8:42). Here is the test of who is true Israel and who is not. True Israelites, like Nathanael, will accept and love Jesus as Messiah. False Israelites will reject and despise the name of Jesus.

Jeremiah 31:21 states that as the people of Israel migrated into other distant lands, they would leave "waymarks" to indicate their passing. Genesis 49:17 pictures the tribe of Dan as leaving a trail like a serpent; that is, twisting and turning but always moving forward. We will cite evidence of those "waymarks" or road signs shortly, but first, let us think upon the eventual goal of the centuries of migration that lay ahead for Israel. The true Israel was promised the divine gift of a new homeland, a place set aside by God especially for His own nation. In II Samuel 7:10, a prophecy repeated in I Chronicles 17:9, the Eternal One Promised: "Moreover I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and plant them, that they may dwell in a place of their own, and move no more..."

This promise could not have referred to the land of Palestine, for the context makes clear that the prophecy was given from Nathan to King David "in his house" in the city of David which is Jerusalem, Therefore, the divine purpose spoke of another land, a new country rich in resources and awaiting for development into an abundance which would be the model for, and envy of the world.

History reveals the place: America

The prophet Amos spoke also of this as recorded in Chapter 9, verse 15:

"And I will plant them upon their land, and they shall no more be pulled up out of their land which I have given them, saith the Lord thy God."

Jeremiah 3:18 looked toward that time, which is now fulfilled.

"In those days the house of Judah shall walk with the house of Israel and they shall come together out of the land of the north to the land that I have given..."

In our time ("in those days") the "house of Judah" (Germanic and related peoples) and "the house of Israel" (Anglo-Saxon and related nations) are now "come together" out of "the land of the north" (northern Europe) to the new promised land under the new covenant (New Testament).

America, the new promised land, is a dominion "from sea to sea" (Psalms 72:8; Zechariah 9:10). An eastern sea and a western sea are spoken of in Zechariah 14:8 as "the former sea" and "the hinder sea." The word translated "former" in the King James Version means "eastern" and the "hinder sea" would be the opposite of that, or the "western sea". Old Palestine does not border an eastern sea, but the United States does border the Atlantic Ocean and the Pacific Ocean, the eastern and western seas.

Genesis 49:22. Joseph, through Ephraim (Great Britain) and Manasseh (United States of America), "...is a fruitful bough, even a fruitful bough by a well; whose branches run over the wall." The word translated "branches" means literally "daughters" so the verse is speaking of people, a race which would explore and migrate to the corners of the earth. This was fulfilled when our forefathers established Great Britain, Newfoundland, Canada, the United States, Australia, New Zealand, and other places.

*"I will take you one of a city, and two of a family, and I bring you to Zion:
and I will give you pastors according to my heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and understanding."
(Jeremiah 8:14- 15)*

Immigrants came to America "one of a city, two of a family" and left behind others of their race in the old country. Studies have shown that those who migrate tend to be healthier and more adaptable than those who do not. So, the cream of the crop came to America (Zion). God has kept His promise, giving His people pastors according to His heart who feed the chosen people with the Bread of life from the Word of God.

Isaiah 6:13 indicates only a fraction, a tenth, of those who began the trek from Palestine will go all the way to America. Isaiah 10:22 tells us that though all Israel will be a large population ("as the sand of the sea") yet only a "remnant" - a small representative portion - would migrate all the way to the new promised land.

We have seen that the tribe of Dan would be especially notable in leaving "waymarks" along the path of its migration into Europe (see also Deuteronomy 33:22; Joshua 19:47; Judges 18:12, 29). Here is a list of some of those waymarks left tell us the path followed as Israel migrated into Europe:

The Waymarks of Dan

In Palestine:
Jordan River

Denmark
(literally 'Dan's Mark')
Swedan

In Russia:
Don River
City Donetsk
Donets Basin
*City of Dnepropetrovsk
Dnieper River
Dniester River

City Dan-Zig,
now known as Gadansk,
(the site of activities of Poland's Solidarity movement)

In Europe:
Dardanelles
Macedonia
Danube River
Danric Alps

*In the original Hebrew there were no vowels per se, so that subsequent language development caused vowel spellings to vary, or even to be eliminated, e.g., the vowel between 'd' and 'n.'

New settlers in Ireland at the time of the Assyrian conquest of Israel (ca. 721 B.C.) were called "Tuata de Dan-aans" meaning "Tribe of Dan." Early inhabitants of Ireland were called Dan-onians.

Ptolemy was a scholar who lived in the second century A.D. in Alexandria, which was a center of learning in ancient times. In Ptolemy's map of Ireland we find Dan-slough, Dan-sower, Dan-sobairse, Dan's resting place, Dan's habitation, and Dan-gan castle (birthplace Duke of Wellington).

Ireland includes places named Dun-dalke, Dun-drum, Dun-glow, Din-gle, Dunsmore (literally "more Dans"), the city of Londonderry, and Don-egal Bay (site of the murder in 1979 of Lord Mountbatten of the British royal family; his German name had been Battenberg until World War I).

The name "Dunn" in the Irish language means the same as "Dan" in Hebrew: "Judge" (see Genesis 49:16).

In England there is a Don River and, of course, Lon-don itself.

In Scotland we find the Don River, the Doon River, and places called Dun-dee, Dun-raven, E-din-burgh, and Dun-oon (scene of the world championship hammer-throwing contest).

Early inhabitants of Norway were the Don-sk people.

Ancient Greece was populated, in part, by the Dan-oi.

But it was not only the tribe of Dan which left a trail across Europe. A map of Italy at the time of Julius Caesar will show an area near Rome inhabited by Umbrians (from the Latin for "Hebrews") and an adjacent section of Sesones (from the Latin "Simeon"--one of the tribes of Israel.)

The term Saxon is derived from Isaacson or "son of Isaac" and is still used when we speak of Anglo-Saxons or Saxony, a part of Germany today.

In Spain there is a city called Cadiz. The original spelling was Gades, named for the tribe of Gad, another tribe of Israel.

Spain and Portugal occupy the Iberian Peninsula, from the Gaelic (Irish) word 'Iberia,' meaning "Hebrew". Obviously, the people of Ireland had migrated through what is now Spain and Portugal. We do not see that in the complexions of most Spaniards today because the much later Moorish Arab darkened the natives by the infusion of much Arab and North African blood. The early Celtiberians who occupied Spain were a fair-skinned race who are almost bred out of existence and remain only in the complexion and features of some of the Spanish aristocracy. On a visit to the Dominican Republic, this writer observed that the wealthy ruling class had much lighter skin than the lower classes, though all claim the Spanish culture. Experience shows that the mighty cultures and empires built by the white race do not last if the white culture-creators mix with the dark-skinned races. Though the Israelite remnant in Spain is small indeed, the waymarks remain to tell their passing through.

Earlier, we spoke of the exile of some two hundred thousand people from the tribe of Judah about 700 B.C. They migrated to northern Europe. The peninsula housing Denmark is called Jutland, from Judah-land. One of the tribes invading England and Scotland about the time of King Arthur was called the Jutes, derived from Judah. The Jutes were also called Jutons, Teutons, or Gutons (Goths). So the Germans, Scandinavians, English, and Scotsmen of today are partly of the tribe of Judah. W.A. Carto, writing in the introduction to Imperium, by Francis Parker Yockey, notes "Genghis Khan, a Mongol, came from a tribe called 'they grey-eyed men,' according to biographer Harold Lamb, and he had red hair and green eyes." Will Durant, in his book, Caesar and Christ, p. 187, says "Cleopatra was a Macedonian Greek by origin, and more probably blonde than brunette. Not only do these historical facts reveal the misinformation we have been given by the humanist, but the racial truth about the Macedonians adds new insight into the vision given to the Apostle Paul as reported in Acts 16:9-10:

"And a vision appeared to Paul in the night; There stood a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us. And after he had seen the vision, immediately we endeavored to go into Macedonia, assuredly, gathering that the Lord had called us for to teach the gospel unto Them

Clearly, God purposed that Paul was to cross over into Europe and preach the gospel of the Kingdom to the race which today is known as Nordic or European! This plainly confirms our thesis of a racial destiny in the Divine Plan.

In Isaiah 49:8 God tells Israel, "I will preserve thee, and give thee for a covenant people, to establish the earth, to cause to inherit desolate heritages..." The phrase, "to establish the earth" means literally "to raise up the earth" and America has certainly raised up the desolate and empty land of our continent. Vast lands where once Indians roamed and hunted wild buffalo are now farms producing wheat and other grains which not only feed our own people, but are exported to feed (bless) many other nations as well as even including Communist Russia. Psalms 2:8 promises "...I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possessions." North America was once one of those "uttermost parts" when the psalm was written.

When Americans realize their rightful heritage, they will stand tall with a renewed sense of identity. They will know who they are and will no longer accept the charges of guilt being heaped upon them by all the jealous beneficiaries of American generosity and compassion. In that day there will be no need for drugs and other means of escape from life. The frustrations that produce child molesting and wife beating will fade away as our people take pride in their divine destiny. Lord, hasten that day!

Our destiny to inhabit and develop the North American continent was expressed beautifully in Isaiah 35:1-2, "The wilderness and solitary place shall be glad for them; and the desert shall rejoice, and blossom as the rose. It shall blossom abundantly.." You and I have helped in the fulfillment of that prophecy, as did our hard-working ancestors. We must not forget that all our blessings are from God, not man; we are instruments of Providence and we will be used to complete the Eternal plan.

God told Israel they would speak in another language one day. Isaiah 28:11 announced, "For with stammering lips and another tongue will he speak to this people." The word translated "stammering" is listed in Strong's Concordance as "gael" and is listed in Young's Analytical Concordance as "leag". This apparent contradiction is explained by the fact that the Phoenician reads from left to right, while the Hebrew reads from right to left. Therefore, "gael" and "leag" are the same word read in two ways. One name for the ancient Irish language is Leagael. The reverse reading is Gaeleag, known today as Gaelic. This is the language still spoken by some in Ireland; it is as well, the native language of the Highland Scotch. The Gaelic language is indicative of the Celtic people. In the narrower sense the term Celtic is often applied today to the Irish, the Manx, the Highland Scotch, the Welsh, the Cornish and the Bretons of northern France. In the broader sense, the term Celtic speaks of entire range of Nordic people of various subgroups who dominated central and northern Europe from 600 B.C. to about 100 A.D.

The same chapter of Isaiah quoted in the previous paragraph establishes that the Gaelic language would be associated with Ephraim, the British Isles. Thus does God always do what He says He will do. We are held in His hands, though Satan has blinded the true Israel to its identity these last days.

Isaiah 66:8 foretells that a new nation will be born in a day. What day was that? Leviticus 26:21 warned that Israel would be punished "seven times" if the nation persisted in sin. Israel did continue to sin. About 747 B.C., the house of Israel was required to pay heavy tribute to Assyria. After this additional setbacks occurred. The nation collapsed and was taken into captivity. The term "seven times" in the Bible means 2,520 years (seven times three hundred sixty--a day meaning a year). That brings us roughly to 1773 A.D. Calendar corrections can bring us to 1776 A.D. On July 4, 1776, a nation was born in a day with the Declaration of Independence. * {Actually, the correct year is 745 BC, according to Putnam's Dictionary Of Events, copyright 1927, page 6, which states, "745, Accession of Tiglath-pileser III of Assyria, who wages war against Chaldea, Syria, and the kingdom of Israel." This was the historical date when the eastern half of the tribe of Manasseh was deported by Tiglath-Pileser. 2520 years later is EXACTLY 1776. (Since there is no year 0, the correct answer is 1775 + 1.) – Eli}

*See Appendix 1.

Isaiah 60:5 promises that much of the wealth of the world will one day flow to the nations of Israel. The King James Version says, "...the forces of the Gentiles {sic, nations – Eli} shall come unto thee." The word translated "forces" means "wealth" and the word "Gentiles" means simply "nations" so that the verse should read, "...the wealth of the nations shall come unto thee." America produces much of the wealth of the world, which benefits (blesses) all mankind. It is natural that wealth should flow into this dynamic society. Much of the world is jealous of our creativity, inventiveness, and willingness to take risks to make possible advancement. Also much of the world today is socialist oriented and thinks only of consumption, ignoring the necessity of producing something to consume! If your prosperity flows out of your faith expressed in works, then do not be apologetic about it. And do not let parasites take it from you by their lies and cunning.

In the last days Israel is not called by that name. The Word of God records that Israel is to be given a new name. "...thou shalt be called by a new name..." (Isaiah 62:2). This prophecy was fulfilled in New Testament times when "...the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch" (Acts 11:26). If you are a Christian, you are of Israel; you are an Israelite {By inheritance, not by “conversion” of other races. (Matt. 15:24-31.) – Eli} Let no one steal your good name.

God said through Jeremiah, “... I will give you pastors according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and understanding.” (Jeremiah 3:15)

This booklet is one of the ways God is fulfilling that promise.

Your eyes have been opened to the wonderful truth about your divine heritage.

Study the word of God.

Accept Jesus Christ as your personal Savior.

Look for the return of Jesus as King of the true Israel to establish the government of God upon earth. Support our effort to awaken our nation to eternal destiny and her glorious mission.

America (Zion) is being invaded by Cubans, Haitians, Mexicans, and others who resent the white race for our superior achievements. All true Israelites must stand firm and united for the sake of our children and grandchildren. When you realize with all your heart who you are, you will have the inner strength to stand tall and put away your childish things. (I Cor. 18:11) Many of your fears will fade away. You will have the solution to your emptiness and frustrations. And you can.

BE WHAT YOU ARE!

“There are three stages in the revelation of any truth:

In the first it is ridiculed;

In the second, resisted;

And in the third

it is considered self-evident.”

Summary of American Identity

The American People are identified as racial Israel. The American Nation is identified as Manasseh. The Number thirteen marks our national birth 13 times as a symbolic sign; e.g. Thirteen Colonies, etc.

Biblical scholars know that the seven times of Lev. 26:18 represents a national punishment of seven prophetic years. A prophetic year is a time of 360 years. Psalm 119; Proverbs 24:16; Daniel 4; Ezek. 4:4-6; Numbers 14:34; Revelation 12:6; 13:5 are correlated to derive the scriptural seven times equation:

$$7 \times 360 = 2,520 \text{ years.}$$

The punishment of Israel began when Assyria was stirred up against Israel. These wars lasted a number of years, but certain dates are landmarks.

(I Chronicles 5:26; II Kings 15:19, 29; 16:5-9; 17:5, 6, et seq.) King Pul oppressed Manasseh with taxes and tyranny just as King George oppressed the colonies two and a half millennia later. The fight for their independence began 2,520 years before our Declaration of Independence. They were carried off into captivity (Divine punishment) circa 736 BC. and 2,520 years later,* after 13 years of bitter struggle and birth pangs, America became a Nation with the ratification of the Constitution of the United States of America on March 4, 1789. Each of the tribes of Israel had historical national landmarks 2,520 years after their captivities. E.g., Judah went into Babylonian captivity 592~587 BC, and 2,520 years later the modern Nation of true Judah broke the bonds of Mystery Babylonian captivity for 12 scripturally significant years. Tracing Our Ancestors is suggested for a deeper study of these fascinating truths.

Footnotes:

*The elapsed number of years between a date BC and the same date AD is one less than the sum of the years. {This year, 736 BC, represents the total capitulation of the Ten Northern Tribes to the Assyrians. My research indicates that the 736 BC represents the total occupation of the northern house of Israel, with Judah ultimately giving up its fenced cities, with the exception of Jerusalem, which withstood the Assyrian invasions. Here is the account from History of Assyria http://www.cais-soas.com/CAIS/Religions/non-iranian/Judaism/Persian_Judaism/book4/pt3.htm

In the bible, Aram and Israel attacked Jerusalem during the reign of Ahaz, king of Judah, and wished to crown a king of their choice over Judah. Ahaz sent to Tiglath-pileser king of Assyria (2 Kgs 16:7-8) for help. The king of Assyria accepted Ahaz's appeal and attacked Aram, conquered Damascus, and killed Rezin. The time when Assyria subjugated Judah cannot clearly be learned from these passages, whether before or after the request of Ahaz.

Ahaz is specifically mentioned in a summary inscription from Calah. Jehoahaz (Ya-u-ha-zi) of Judah and the kings of Amon, Moab, Edom and Philistia are mentioned among those who conveyed offerings to Assyria. This inscription was written following the seventh year of Tiglath-pileser III, about 736 BC. The events are described in geographical order, not chronologically.

1. The reduction of the Arabs and other nomads, and the appointment of Idibi'ilu.
2. An updated list of kings paying tribute to Assyria during 738 BC which omits the names of several kings, among them are those of Aram and Israel.
3. A list of kings of Phoenicia, Philistia, Judah, and Transjordan included amongst the earlier list but now included.
4. Two additional events are annexed—the payment of tribute by Matan (Metenna) of Tyre and the deposing of Uassurme king of Tabal. Earlier the latter is included in the same inscription among the givers of tribute, showing that this is later. }

 { The Seven Times punishment of Jerusalem began in the year 604 BC, when the Babylonians invaded Judah. 2520 years later, in 1917, under General Allenby, the British (Judah and Joseph) took Jerusalem away from the Turks, thus returning Jerusalem to Israel and Judah in the last days. But the British Empire gave up the Mandate in 1946. For 31 years, Palestine was under true Israelite control, until the British gave up the Mandate – due to Jewish terrorism against the British - and handed Palestine over to the Jews on May 14 1948. The British illegally gave Palestine to the Jews under the deceptive terms of the Balfour Declaration of WWI (Nov. 2, 1917). The Jews have usurped Judea, just as Herod the Edomite usurped it 2000 years earlier. }
